THREE BIG VICTORIES

Converging Campaigns on Mexican Capital Show Marked Successes.

Three great constitutional victories ark the progress of three converging ampaigns against Mexico City. The

The defeat of 1.500 federals at Panasces. near San Luis Potosi, by Gen. Valdes Torres. The rebels captured General Arzarmendi, the federal commander, all the officers of his staff, three military trains, 1,500 prisoners, and quantity of arms and ammunition. The capture of Acapneta, 100 miles south of Mazatlan, on the west coast. The Federal garrison of 1,500 men were taken prisoners. Besides. 290 Mausers three field guns, several machine guns and 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition were captured. The defeat of a strong force of fed rals near Saltillo by Gen. Pablo Gonzales. The federals were cut off from the city and outflanked. Six field guns rapid-fire gun and a large quantity ammunition were captured.

Three distinct campaigns are in ac tive operation, each within about 300 miles of Mexico City. General Obregon, with 15,000 men, operating from the Pacific coast side, has captured all the intervening territory, is besieging Ma-zation and is threatening Mexico City from the west. Another division has fought a battle at Penzacos, near San Luis Potosi, which is 327, miles by rail north of Mexico City, but much nearer in a direct line. This is the southernmost point the constitutionalists have reached in central Mexico, and with the army now attacking Tampico, they de-ciare that the general advance on the Mexican capital is to be made within few weeks, from three sides. enthusiastic Villa is reported as saying within three weeks."

The Significance.

The significance of these constituionalists successes lies in the fact that San Luis Potosi is far south of Salilo, and only about 200 miles from Tampico on the west and Mexico City on the south. General Carranza's report of the desperate condition of the federals at Mazatlan was coincident with reports from Rear Admiral Howerd, who stated that a land and sea engagement was carried on there broughout yesterday, the constitu-

The capture of Acaponeta, on the Mexican west coast, about 190 miles south of Mazatlan, blocks the only railway by which Huerta might escape to the west cast port of Maintlan. It is on the cast port of Maintlan. It is on the main route to Guadalajera, the capture of which would also cut off Huerta's other west coast route of flight to Man-

The Southern Limit.

With constitutionalists hammering at the defenses of Tampico, at the gates discover suddenly that Huerta has of San Luis Potosi, and in possessio of San Luis Potosi, and in possession of Caponeta, a glance at the map will anow that a straight line drawn from Tampico westward across Mexico to Acaponeta also passes through San Luis Potosi and this line marks the routhern limit of the advance of the constitutionalist toward Mexico City. Constitutionalist re-enforcements, with heavy artillery, have arrived at Tampico from Monterey, and with these they expect to be in possession of Tampico within a week. entire government is showing signs of growing inefficiency, there people of the capital declare, and the long expected crumbling of the power of the dictator is relieved to be close at hand. Reports from Tampaco today declare that British Consul Wilson, who has been insisting that all Americans leave that port, has finally succeeded in practically clearing the city. There are only two Americans left there. They are both oil men.

Administration Confident Huerta's Elimination Will Give Common Ground For Amalgamation of Warring Factions in Mexico.

Reports of almost continuous constitutionalist successes in northern Mexico today cleared the atmosphere materially, so far as the United States is concerned. The President and his advisers believe that long before the A. B. C. mediators get together at Niagara Falls, Ontario, Carranza will hold the entire north. They are equally confident that, so soon as this condition is brought about, Huerta will either eliminate himself or be eliminated by the men who in the past have supported him. If Huerta can be climinated, there is not an official here familiar with the entire Mexican situation who doubts that a common ground could be quickly found on which all of the warring factions in Mexico could be brought together.

The mediators have decided that there little more they can do until they get to Canada. They have sounded out liverta, and his representatives unofficially have had frequent conferences with Secretary of State Bryan. They believe they are now in position to frame their initial proposals, which are to form the framework for the hoped for common agreement, According to the information made
